Autobiography

My name is Maksym. I'm 22 years old. I was born in Kharkiv, where I'm living now. I have a small family – only me and my mother. My mother, Iryna, works for a telecommunication company as an engineer. I'm not married.

My height is 176 cm, weight 72 kg.

I entered school in 2003, graduated in 2014. Every year, mainly in the summer, I went to my grandmother in the village, to her farm, where I rested and helped with work. There I met many different domestic animals such as cows, pigs and poultry. I used to work with these animals because my grandmother was old and needed me to help about the household. I cut grass every summer, dried and transported hay for the winter, mixed fodder with corn and potato, cleaned barns from manure.

Throughout my life I have worked in several areas - in sales and in manufacturing. I was mainly connected with food production.

Currently I am a student. I started studying in Agrarian Lyceum in 2018 and learn veterinary there. Why did I choose veterinary medicine? This is mostly related to my childhood, because I really enjoyed the country lifestyle and dreamed of being a veterinarian. Now I study various interesting subjects and practice on the training farms. Last autumn I spent two month on the farm and did there moving animals, cleaning of stables, feeding and watering a large number of animals, mixing fodder.

I have a good level of English and understand a little bit of Polish.

I have a driving license and can drive a car.

In my free time I enjoy sports, namely cycling, snowboarding and reading.

At the moment, Ukraine is only developing, and it is very important for me to get experience in working and living in more developed countries. I am particularly interested in farms, because I love animals and I'm not afraid to work. I would like to get a practice term on a dairy farm in Denmark.

Regards,

Maksym
